DATE : 29.07.2019

TIME : 10.00 am

VENUE : G.S. HALL

TOPIC : SOLID AND LIQUID WASTE MANAGEMENT
IN RURAL AREAS.

CHIEF GUEST: DR. PECHIAPPAN BHARATHI,
PROFESSOR OF AGRONOMY,
SRS INSTITUTE OF AGRI & TECHNOLOGY,
VEDASANDUR.

ORGANIZED BY: CHARLES DARWIN CLUB.

Solid and liquid waste has become one of the biggest problems and its management is one of the major issues nowadays for our environment. The problem is not restricted to a single place rather it covers all parts of the environment which leads to toxic pollutants.

In India especially in rural areas, waste is a severe threat to the public health concern and cleanliness. Though, the form of waste both solid and liquid generated in rural areas is predominantly organic and biodegradable yet becoming a major problem to the overall sustainability of the ecological balance.

So our department has organized a special lecture on "Solid & Liquid Waste Management in Rural Areas", to give awareness to the students as most of the students belong to rural areas.

The Chief Guest "Dr. Pechiappan Bharathi", is a very senior Professor, who has, 32 years of teaching experience in

J.N. Agri University. He has interest not only in Agriculture, but in various fields like Yoga, Drama, etc. He is a social activist, has a real concern in problems facing by farmers. He gave a lecture regarding the present status of Agriculture in our country, economic problems, sustainable development and management of solid & liquid wastes.

The students enjoyed the session and are motivated by chief Guest talk. The chief Guest advised the students that "No Agriculture, No Life".
